Alltel Arena

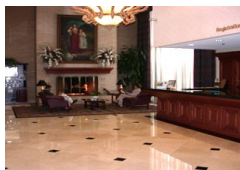

Little Rock and North Little Rock are twin cities located on either side of the Arkansas River. The name “Little Rock” came from the natural river port discovered by French explorers at La Petite Roch or “the Little Rock.”

North Little Rock and Little Rock are the central cities by definition in a Metropolitan Statistical Area (MSA), the 90th largest in the United States.

Central Arkansas has the largest concentration of limited access highways and one of the most diverse economies within the entire state; the area is a banking and business center and major manufacturing firms call Central Arkansas home.

With the state capitol located in Little Rock, serving as headquarters for almost every state agency, the state is one of the largest employers in the area. In addition, the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences is one of the major teaching and research medical facilities in the country.
