

THE RECOVERY OF SOUL

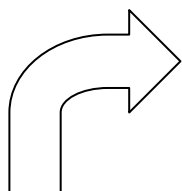

2010 CPSP PLENARY

April 11-13, 2010

The Columbus Renaissance Hotel, Columbus Ohio

From its origins in the old religions of the earth emerged the shamanic healers, persons leading others to live in harmony with creation and the Creator. Then came the modern religions where spirit and energy cry out from rocks and valleys and persist in the life of the Jewish shaman named Jesus. What followed was the evolution of the physician, the spiritual healer, and the counselor of broken souls. Science lifted the healing arts to new heights; but then things happened where the individual was sometimes lost to technology and the impersonal society. And thus it was the CPSP took "The Recovery of Soul" as the metaphor of its high commitment, manifested in authentic relationships and now the celebration of its first twenty years.

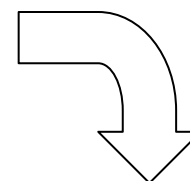

The cycle continues.

PSYCHOTHERAPY

Reclaiming the care of the soul at the center of its becoming: its integration of being/non-being, mind/body, intimacy/aloneness, strength/vulnerability.

Modality: Plenary Address, Rahe Corlis, Ph.D.

MEDICAL PRACTICE

AUTHENTIC

Reclaiming energy-centered medicine,

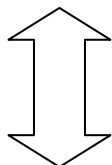

RELATIONSHIPS

integration of the healing arts.

Reclaiming trust, candor and

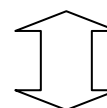

Modality: Plenary Address,
Ronald Banner, M.D.

community.

intimacy in CPSP relationships.

Modality: Plenary small groups,
Tavistock, Chapter Life Workshop
the gathering of the

BIBLICAL/THEOLOGICAL

Reclaiming the power of belief, of healing touch, of the healer as agent of transformation.

Modality: Plenary Address,
Mary Shields, M.Div. Ph.D.

CELEBRATION

Reclaiming the wonder of music, dance, play, laughter, sensuality, pride, love.

Modality: CPSP 20th Anniversary Banquet, Presidential Luncheon, hospitality.

SHAMANIC ORIGINS

Reclaiming ancient wisdom and pastoral empowerment.

Modality: Plenary Experiential Event,
Deborah Ling, M.Div, Shamanic Trainer

