

The College of Pastoral Supervision and Psychotherapy, Inc.

The CPSP
DIRECTORY

2004 PILOT EDITION

“...spiritual pilgrims seeking a collegial professional community. Their calling and commitments are, therefore, first and last theological.”

The College of Pastoral Supervision and Psychotherapy (CPSP)

- ◆ is an international, theologically based community offering accreditation and certification of individuals and programs that meet standards of expertise in pastoral supervision and psychotherapy.
- ◆ confers Diplomate standing on those who aspire to its principles and commit to its discipline.
- ◆ confers accreditation on clinical pastoral education (CPE) programs and pastoral counseling centers, certifying pastoral counselors.

A CPSP Chapter is:

- ◆ Board Certified Clinical Chaplains
- ◆ a group of Diplomates who commit themselves to the Covenant.
- ◆ geographically based for convenience, but has no fixed geographical boundaries.
- ◆ an assembly that maintains an active unity between meetings.
- ◆ the designated context for the settlement of all matters related to accreditation and certification, adjudication and continuing education.
- ◆ a mentoring group of support, challenge, discipline, consultation, education, and theological reflection.
- ◆ the entry point for persons wishing to participate in the CPSP mission.

“...spiritual pilgrims seeking a collegial professional community. Their calling and commitments are, therefore, first and last theological.”

Programs:

- ◆ CPE programs are offered to seminarians, graduate students, clergy and laity to develop and enhance professional identity, as well as to foster competence as a pastoral care provider. CPSP's programs meet and exceed established standards of training for most certified institutional chaplains. CPSP programs also meet traditional seminary requirements for candidates seeking graduate degrees.
- ◆ Training opportunities are designed for those seeking certification in pastoral psychotherapy, clinical pastoral education, pastoral counseling, and Diplomate standing in CPSP.
- ◆ Clinical work in accredited CPSP programs may be transferred to certain universities for the pursuit of advanced theological degrees (D.Min., Th.D., and Ph.D.).

Quality:

- ◆ The unique character of Chapter life fosters reciprocal accountability and collegiality among Diplomates, students and trainees. The Chapter provides an on-going community for camaraderie, consultation, discipline and support.
- ◆ Diplomate credentials are reviewed annually by the Chapter and must be endorsed by the Governing Council in order to be upheld.

History

CPSP was founded in 1990 in response to a widely felt need in the pastoral counseling community for a recovery of the soul. The spirit that called forth Anton Boisen, Russell Dicks, Helen Flanders Dunbar, Seward Hiltner, Thomas Klink, Carroll Wise, and numerous other pioneers of the CPE movement had become lost in a bureaucratic maze – one produced by an eagerness of pastoral counselors to achieve power, prestige, and middle class respectability. The founders of CPSP concluded that: “The disciplined healing and therapeutic task of religious communities require a certain audacity and heedlessness to common trends and typically accepted formulas.” Hence, the founding of CPSP was itself an act of professional integrity and personal courage.

FROM THE COVENANT OF The College of Pastoral Supervision and Psychotherapy

“CPSP members see themselves as spiritual pilgrims seeking a collegial professional community. Their calling and commitments are therefore, first and last theological. Members covenant to address one another in a profound theological sense. They commit to being mutually responsible to one another for their professional work and direction. Matters that are typically dealt with in other certifying bodies, by accreditation, certification, and judiciary commissions will be dealt with in Chapters.

Thus, members organize themselves in such a way that each participates in a relatively small group called a Chapter consisting of approximately a dozen colleagues. CPSP will certify persons only, not institution. Therefore, training or counseling programs directed by CPSP members in any Chapter are by definition accredited and certified by CPSP.

CPSP members commit themselves to a galaxy of shared values that are as deeply held, as they are difficult to communicate. ‘Recovery of the soul’ is an appropriate metaphor that points towards these shared values. CPSP members place a premium on the significance of the relationships among themselves. They value personal authority and creativity. They believe they should make a space for one another and stand ready to midwife one another in their respective spiritual journeys. Because they believe that life is best lived by grace. They believe it essential to guard against becoming invasive, aggressive, or predatory toward each other. They believe that persons are always more important than institutions, and that even the institution of CPSP itself must be carefully monitored lest it take on an idolatrous character.”
